Im not that smart

I've failed so I should give up

This is too hard, I give up

If I have to try this hard I can't be that smart

My abilities determine everything

I don't understand this

I'm either good at it or I'm not

I can't get any better

I can't do this

She's just smarter than I am

It's good enough

I've failed so I musn't be good enough

I want to look smart

I don't like challenges

This task is too big

I can become smarter through effort

I've failed so I should try another strategy

This is hard but I'm going to persevere

Trying really hard is the way to become smarter

My effort and attitude makes all the difference

I don't understand this yet but I'll keep going

I can learn anything I want to if I keep trying

I can ALWAYS improve

I believe in myself and will keep trying

I'm inspired by those who succed. I can learn from them.

Is this my best work?

I will learn from my failures so I can improve

I want to learn and be seen as hard-working

I like to challenge myself so I can improve

I can tackle anything I put my mind to
